Congressman Vincent Boroging, of the Eleventh Kentucky district, is seriously ill with pneumonia, at his home in London.

Former Gov. W. O. Bradley has decided to speak at Munfordville

Saturday, when the Republican State campaign will be opened.

Judge D. B. Redwine in an interview said that he had never been a candidate for a renomination in the Twenty-third judicial district. He said that he believed the party would unite upon and elect either Robert Riddell or D.

D. Sublett, both of whom now desire the nomination.

It is estimated that between 30,- 000 and 50,000 persons have been massacred by Turks in Monistir since the insurrection began, and 150,000 persons are hiding in the mountains. All foreign correspondents will be expelled on the ground that they are circulating false reports.

A rule against Jasper King, the juror who saved Jett and White from hanging, was issued by Judge Osborne, charging him with contempt of court, and an effort will be made to punish him. This said further that charges of perjury in connection with the Jett-White case may also be preferred against

Hoo, Rola K. Hart, of Fleming county, once Democratic nominee for Congress from this district, is a candidate for Railroad Commissioner, and will doubtless receive the instructions of Lawrence county next Monday.

The case of Curtis Jett, charged with the murder of James Cockrill, former Town Marshal of Jackson, was called at Cynthiana, and the trial was postponed until Monday on account of the absence of counsel for Jett. A motion by the defense for a continuance was overruled by Judge Osborne. The prosecution claims to have three witnesses who saw Jett fire the fatal shot. The defense claims it will prove by S. King Ford, formerly of Pikeville, that Jett was with him at another place at the time the shot was fired.

PEACH ORCHARD.

David Spence and family visited at M. Brown's Saturday and Sunday and attended the Rev. Dr.

Humble's meeting at Inez. Joe Bowling was here Saturday.

Labe McClure was here last Friday investigating a whiskey case.

Johnson Spence has sold his property in Eden and moved back to Peach Orchard. We are glad to have him and his family with us again. R. H. Rickman, of Oak Hill, O., is here on a visit.

Willie Vaughan and Larkie Quis-berry attended church on Wednesday. Dr. H. Haws is attending the institute at Louisa this week. Rev. Humble, who has been holding a revival meeting in Eden, passed through here Monday. John H. Wallace, Jr., has returned from Wilton, Ky., and gone to work in the mines at this place. The observance of Labor Day throughout the United States last Monday will give some idea of what has been accomplished by wise and conservative union labor leaders in this nation within the last few years. We hope Gov.

Beckham's speech delivered in Winchester on the 5th inst. will be read by all voters of the State. As the campaign seems to be getting good and hot in places we believe the above mentioned speech would be interesting to many. Citizen.

GEORGES CREEK.

Farmers are very busy saving fodder.

A large crowd intended going to BUSKEYVILLE.

Mrs. Fullerton, of South Point, O., accompanied by her son, were here last week visiting her daughter, Mrs. K. J. Bevin. Mrs.

Elwood Hutchison, of Torchlight, who is a victim of typhoid fever, was brought home to her father,

W. D. O'Neal, last week. She is gradually improving, we are glad to say. Fred Picklesimer is moving to Normal this week, having been given employment in one of the lumbering plants at that place. He and his family are excellent people and we will sadly miss them when gone, but they take with them the best wishes of all for their success. An infant child of Charley Webb and wife was buried in the Hutchison graveyard last Sunday. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of all.

Claude Vaughan and bride passed here Wednesday enroute for home on Lick Creek, having been united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the home of the bride's father, Lark Graham, by Rev. Reynolds, only a few hours before. L. W. Spencer, of Charley, passed here last Friday with a fine bunch of cattle for the Cincinnati market, notwithstanding the prevailing low prices. Misses Irene and Pauline Carter visited friends in Louisa Wednesday.

Mrs. Cunningham, of Glenwood, returned home after a brief visit to her husband, who is teaching in district No. 71. The family of W. F. McCown, who have all been sick for so long, are a little better at this time. R. H. Ransom was here this week looking up some of his business interests which are of a years' standing or more, and every one is glad to see him. Joe Bassey left Monday to reenter the

A. & M. College at Lexington. He will not return until the holiday season. Buckskin Bess.

BUCHANAN.

A. D. Hatten and family left Wednes-

ULYSSES.

After a brief illness little Maggie, daughter of Samuel Murray and wife, of Lowmansville, died Aug. 28th. Maggie certainly was too sweet a child to remain long on this storm-beaten earth. He that always knows best took the tender, transient flower and transplanted it to that glorious where where the dews of death will never more dampen the fair brow of little Maggie. So cheer up, dear parents, your loss is her eternal gain.

We extend our sympathies.

On Aug. 30th the funeral of Aunt Katie Brown, a centenarian, was preached at the residence of her son John J. Brown on the same spot of ground where she and her husband John Brown, Sr., settled in the early part of the 19th century. She was one of the pioneers of Johnson county. The greater part of the county at that time was a vast wilderness, an unbroken forest, where bears, wolves, deer and turkeys roamed, and around their dwelling the shriek of the panther was as common as the hoot of the owl at the present day.

There was assembled the largest concourse of people your scribe ever saw at a funeral, the estimate being 1,000 persons. Her relatives and descendants number far into the hundreds. At the time of her death she was a hundred and four or five years old.

A painful accident happened last Saturday. While hauling cross timber for J. A. Beasley a mule kicked Jeff Davis in the face, badly mashing the nose and bruising the face. As a result he cannot work now but we hope he will soon be well again.

Ben Young, of W. Va., called at Marion Reynolds last Friday.

John Ward, of River, was on our creek last week.

Rev. Joe Edwards and wife, of Charley, visited Frank Preston and wife, of Graves Shoal, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Jennie Short, of Millers creek, has returned home after a weeks visit to her parents at Berders Chapel.

The Chandler Brothers will soon resume work with their sawmill.

Grim & Justice will soon have

It is reported that Mrs. J. C.

Talbert died of typhoid fever at Paintsville last Saturday.

Prestonsburg, Ky., Sept. 7.—N.B.

Hays, the Democratic nominee for Attorney General, opened the Democratic campaign here today in a rousing speech to over one thousand enthusiastic Democrats. He is one of the mountain nominees on the State ticket.

Labor Day was celebrated at Ashland in great style. A big parade, speeches and music were the principal features of the program. The Ky. State Band, the Louisa Cornet Band and Abol's orchestra furnished the music.

The speakers were S. S. Savage,

L. F. Zerfoss, Chas. Dobbs, Congressman Kehoe, J. B. Wilhoit, Joe

Rutledge and John Nugent. Races also helped to entertain the crowd.
